AAPC Statement on Section 232 Investigation into Imported Autos

WASHINGTON, D.C. - American Automotive Policy Council President Matt Blunt today issued the following statement on the Administration's proposal for a Section 232 investigation related to imported autos:

“We will follow this process closely, share our views with the Administration and continue to work with them to open foreign markets for U.S.-built products and level the international trade playing field.”

The American Automotive Policy Council (AAPC) is a Washington, D.C. association that represents the common public policy interests of its member companies FCA US, Ford Motor Company and General Motors Company.
