

AAPC

AMERICAN AUTOMOTIVE POLICY COUNCIL

CNBC: Governor Blunt Explains How Japanese Currency Manipulation Hurts Hiring and Economic Growth

Governor Matt Blunt, President of the American Automotive Policy Council (AAPC), appeared on CNBC Monday evening and explained that Japan's currency manipulation policies are costing the United States in terms of exports, jobs and overall economic growth. Japan needs to cease self-serving trade activities and compete fairly in the global marketplace.

Watch the video here.

For more information on the U.S. auto industry and the American Automotive Policy Council please visit us at www.americanautocouncil.org.